Family Tree Magazine Announces New Edition of the 101 Best Websites for Genealogy, Updated and Revised for 2021

For immediate release: June 1, 2021

We are pleased to announce the release of our 101 Best Websites for Genealogy, updated and revised for 2021! For two decades our editors have published this list to highlight the best online resources for family history research. This year's list features 21 new websites that family historians can use to further their research and achieve their genealogy goals.

"With the online genealogy world constantly changing, it can be hard to keep up with what websites and tools are the most useful," said Family Tree Magazine Editor Andrew Koch. "That's why our list focuses on the best of the best—the websites that will make the best use of your time and money."

The 101 Best Websites for Genealogy list is compiled by Family Tree Magazine editors along with founding editor David A. Fryxell. The list covers a wide variety of websites and online tools for genealogy research, including websites for building family trees, finding records, exploring DNA, documenting gravesites and preserving family stories. Each entry includes the site's name and URL, plus a summary of what makes the site great for family history researchers.

The websites are organized categorically for easy browsing; categories include the best websites for US research, the best news websites, the best websites for historical maps and much more.

You can find the new, updated list on our website by visiting <https://www.familytreemagazine.com/best-genealogy-websites/>

The list will appear in the July/August 2021 issue of Family Tree Magazine, which ships to magazine subscribers in June and will be available on newsstands on June 22.
